

Kandlakoya

From the Principal's Desk-

Dear parents,
Greetings of the season!

To carry forward the communicate that we had with you last time through the newsletter, let us connect to last time where the focus was on LOVE and this time it is understanding. Understanding is an important aspect of parenting. It is not all about the basic needs of food, clothing and home but goes beyond. It goes to understanding the intellectual, physical, spiritual, emotional, motivationalthe list of need is exhausting.

Let us focus on one of them today i,e knowing about what our children want/aspire to be in life. Most of the time, mindlessly, we start reflecting our aspirations as theirs and there begins the frivolous friction. Let them find their calling, their path. Every child is unique and special. Let them know themselves. Let them identify their core strengths .Why should we burden them with ours?

World is and in years to come will be facing a shortage of creative minds, ingenuity will be rare as the Kohinoor. Why should we deprive the world and in turn our child, to go on unheard paths if they want to?

Let them study oceanography, cinematography, become an actor or an artist, Tea taster or Travel editor. The Choice is unlimited. Believe me, with our support (parent and school)and their effort they will win the world! Let them open their wings and fly and wish you open your mind to allow them to fly.

Believe that you, as a parent and we as a school are living the same dream of creating an amazing human being as our student and your ward!

Happy parenting!

Intelligence plus character – that is the goal of true education.
